

Bartow landscaper donates 'curb appeal' to CSC

Aug 24, 2010

PHOTO BY DAWN WADE Bartow's Church Service Center saw a new donation of green, with landscaping from Evolve Professional Landscape Management.

Bartow's Church Service Center got a different kind of donation from a local landscape company: "curb appeal."

Evolve Professional Landscape Management, LLC, of Bartow donated labor and plants to freshen the landscape at the Church Service Center's new headquarters at 495 East Summerlin St.

Company employees removed the overgrown weeds and shrubs, and replaced them with low-maintenance, drought-tolerant plants such as crape myrtles, Indian hawthorn and dwarf jasmine.

"Chase Stevens contacted me with an offer that Evolve would contribute the cost and installation of landscaping to the Church Service Center," CSC board member Brian Hinton, who is supervising renovations, said. "They did a beautiful job in landscaping the main entrance to the building and in cleaning up some of the other trees and plants in the complex. Evolve did a first class job. It is exciting to see a young businessman step forward with a contribution of this magnitude."

For more information about Evolve, visit their website at www.evolveyourlawn.com.

Photos:

PHOTO BY DAWN WADE

Bartow's Church Service Center saw a new donation of green, with landscaping from Evolve Professional Landscape Management.

PHOTO BY DAWN WADE

Bartow's Church Service Center saw a new donation of green, with landscaping from Evolve Professional Landscape Management.